

Payment holds on your sold items

We know how important it is for you to receive your money as soon as possible. However, sometimes we need to put a hold on your funds until your transaction is complete.

We typically hold payments for up to 21 days so we can verify that transactions were completed successfully.

If you're having problems purchasing an item, see our page on paying for items. If your buyer hasn't paid, see our page about resolving unpaid items with buyers.

Payment holds

If your payments are not being managed by eBay yet, we'll need to place a temporary hold on all of your payments. We typically hold payments for up to 21 days so we can verify that transactions were completed successfully. In some cases we'll release funds earlier if tracking details are added to the order or if the item is marked as shipped, for example. You'll find the estimated release date of your payments in My eBay Sold. Tip We recommend sending your items as quickly as possible (with tracking) - you'll keep your customers happy and get the fastest access to your payments.

When funds become available for payout

Here are the time frames when your funds will become available for payout:

- Within 24 hours after we confirm the order was delivered if you pay for shipping and

- print labels on eBay
- Within 24 hours after we confirm the order was delivered if you ship directly using USPS, UPS or FedEx and
