

PI - Certificate of authenticity policy - Prohibited and Restricted Items

GUIDE.TALKING_POINTS Personal certificate of authenticity A personal certificate of authenticity is welcomed provided it is valid and in no way associated with problematic issuers. Deeper why of policy eBay strives to maintain a marketplace that is safe for both buyers and sellers of autographs. This policy helps to ensure an open trading experience where every party is informed about the items being traded. eBay urges its sellers and buyers to comply with all governmental laws and regulations. Since the sale of items containing the image, likeness, name, or signature of another person may be prohibited by law, sellers may not list these items on eBay unless the product was made or authorized by that person. This policy helps to protect buyers from purchasing counterfeit or fraudulent items, protect intellectual property rights owners against infringement, and create a safer marketplace.

GUIDE.INSTRUCTIONSSTEPS_TO_RESOLVE See Report a member for our instructions to report a listing.

GUIDE.SUMMARY What Blank certificates of authenticity cannot be listed. Certain authenticators' certificates of authenticity are not permitted on the site. Members can issue their own certificates of authenticity. Members listing autographs don't have to have a certificate of authenticity. Preprints (stamped autographs) cannot be listed in the autograph categories.

GUIDE.RELATED_LINKS Related help pages Autographed items, Certificates of Authenticity, and trading cards policy <a href="http://pages.ebay.com/help/policies/autographs.html"

target="_blank">http://pages.ebay.com/help/policies/autographs.html

Using authentication and grading services: <a href="http://pages.ebay.com/help/community/auth-overview.html"

target="_blank">http://pages.ebay.com/help/community/auth-overview.html

Faces, Names and Signatures:
 <a href="http://pages.ebay.com/help/policies/signatures.html"

target="_blank">http://pages.ebay.com/help/policies/signatures.html

Related articles Listing policies

- item ended, removed, or not renewed by eBay (seller) </h2>