

Registering as a seller

As an eBay seller, you'll receive your payouts in your linked bank account. Verifying your details helps you avoid any delays in receiving your payouts. We'll verify your details when you register for a seller account, or if you update any relevant information on your account. If we're not able to verify your details, we may contact you for more information, or put a banner on your eBay account to let you know what action you need to take. You may not be able to receive your payouts until we verify your details. Tip Be sure to double-check your information is accurate before submitting it. This can avoid delays later on.

- In JPEG, JPG, PDF, or PNG format
- Visible from edge to edge, including all four corners - we may not be able to verify your details if the image is blurry or if information is cut off

Verifying your banking details

To receive payouts, you'll need to link your bank account to your eBay account. It's important to make sure that the names on both accounts match.

For a personal account, your first name and last name should be the same on your bank account and your eBay account.

For a business account, the business name associated with your bank account should be the same as the business name you use to register on eBay.

For example, if the business name on your bank account is "Joe's Hobby Shop", that's the name you should use to register for your eBay business account.

It's also important to make sure that your account type on eBay matches your bank account type. For example, if you have a business eBay account, you'll need a business bank account to register as a seller.

To verify your bank account, we'll need:

- Name on the bank account
- Bank name
- IBAN

Once we verify your information, we'll send you an email to let you know you're set up. If we can't verify your information, we may ask you to verify your linked bank account another way, such as:

Logging into your bank

When verifying your account, if your bank is available in the Add a bank account list, you can select it and log in directly with your bank credentials. This is the fastest way to verify your bank account.

Microdeposits

Alternatively, you can verify your account using two microdeposits (small payments) sent to your linked bank account. Here's how to verify your account using microdeposits:

1. Sign in Seller Hub or my eBay.
2. Select the banner to verify your bank account.Select Verify with microdeposits.Once they've reached your account (1-5 business days), sign into Seller Hub or my eBay.Select the banner to verify your bank account and enter the microdeposit amounts.It can take up to 5 business days for microdeposits to reach your account, and we'll email you to confirm they've arrived. The microdeposits will be withdrawn from your bank account within a few days.TipDon't attempt to enter any amounts until the microdeposits have reached your bank account as this could cause issues with verifying your account.<h3>Providing your bank statement</h3>If we can't verify your linked bank account using the details above, you may need to send us a colour picture of a recent bank statement for that account. If we need this additional information, we'll send you an email with instructions on how to upload the image.Please make sure that the bank statement:Is for the account you're trying to registerIs for an account that belongs to you and shows your first and last name or legal business nameIs 3 months old or lessShows at least the last 4 digits of your bank account numberContains the official letterhead of your bankYour image can be in JPEG, JPG, PDF, or PNG format.
