

PI - Cosmetics policy - Prohibited, Restricted and Counterfeit items

<h2>GUIDE.SUMMARY

What is the policy?

 Listings for used cosmetics, sponges, or applicators are not allowed.

 Listings for used cosmetics, sponges, or applicators are not allowed. This includes products such as skin moisturizers, sunscreens, perfumes, lipsticks, fingernail polishes, eye and facial makeup preparations, shampoos, permanent waves, hair colors, toothpastes, and deodorants. Used cosmetic brushes can be sold but must be thoroughly cleaned Cosmetics, colognes, perfumes, and lotions must come in the original container Homemade cosmetics must comply with government regulations Why does eBay have this policy? We require sellers to follow all federal and state laws and regulations when listing on eBay. Since the sale of used cosmetics may be regulated or prohibited by law, or may cause harm to eBay or its members, we don't allow sellers to list these items. <h2><h2>GUIDE.TALKING_POINTS Why cant I list my sample cosmetics that I packaged myself? Government regulations require cosmetics to be sold in their original container. If I clean my brushes, can I relist them? Yes, if they are properly cleaned and you state this in your item description, you can relist them. </h2>
