

Buying Authenticity Guarantee items from Japan

When purchasing handbags from Japan through the Authenticity Guarantee program, buyers will experience two separate checkout options when it comes to taxes, customs and fees. If the item is $2499 or less you won't pay duties and tax during checkout on eBay. However, you may have to pay the carrier or customs directly for duties and tax prior to delivery. For items $2500 or more you will pay for the item price, shipping, and any applicable taxes/customs charges when checking out on eBay. Note: For additional security all items will require signature upon delivery. Who is responsible for paying customs, duties and taxes?

- Buyers are responsible for paying customs, duties and taxes as required.
- For items where you select to pay at delivery, you will pay for delivery charges at checkout, but you will not pay for import charges and duties until your item is being delivered.
- You will receive an invoice from the shipping carrier to pay any import charges and duties to set up delivery.

What happens if I don't pay my customs fees? As a buyer, it's your responsibility to check which customs and import charges may apply, and to pay them. If you have any questions concerning the payment of your customs fees, you can contact the shipping company through the email you received.
