

PI- Products with eligibility requirements policy - Prohibited, Restricted and Counterfeit items

GUIDE.TALKING_POINTS The seller is currently being blocked from a category. What should they do? How do they become eligible? Refer to seller requirements to be an eligible seller. If all requirements are met, then continue selling and providing good member experiences. Try to list again at a later date. How does eBay choose what sellers can list these items? eBay looks for a positive selling track on eBay, established selling history on or off platform of the item, and ability to sell (e.g., a regulated area) Why did you remove my items? You are not eligible to list these items. Please review the Products with eligibility requirements Help page to learn more about how to become eligible:

Some products may be sold only by sellers who meet some or all the following requirements: The seller has an established history of active selling of for at least 90 days, with 100 or more transactions and $1,000 or more in sales in the last 12 months The seller maintains a track record of delivering positive buying experiences, including an account that is Above Standard or Top Rated The seller complies with all applicable laws, regulations, and eBay policies The seller has registered for eBay managed payments and verified their identity The seller does not engage in high-risk activities. If we believe a seller is a high risk of not delivering the product or meeting these requirements, we may, at our sole discretion, restrict their ability to sell these products In addition to the requirements above, certain items require you to be a business seller and/or pre-approval before listing. Pre-approval requirements include:

- Documentation to demonstrate compliance with regulatory requirements
- Registration as a business that is located domestically
- Shipment of items domestically
- Use of age verification of the buyer and/or recipient of the shipment

Why does eBay have this policy? This policy helps ensure that buyers can purchase safe, authentic items and that important government regulations and guidelines are followed.
