

Selling an eBay account

In the interest of protecting our buyers and sellers, and maintaining a safe marketplace, you can't sell your eBay account or change its ownership.

Your eBay account has value when you develop a strong feedback rating and satisfy your customers. Feedback is intended to reflect a seller's performance, so we don't allow accounts to be transferred or sold. Attempting to sell an eBay account may result in buying and selling restrictions as well as account suspension or removal. Tip! If someone offers to buy your eBay account, report it to us as soon as possible.
