

LP - Bullion Policy - List Practices

<h2>GUIDE.SUMMARY Replica or counterfeit bullion cant be sold on eBay. Listings for all other bullion must follow our policy. What is the policy? Replica, counterfeit, plated or clad bullion, including items described as

German silver or nickel silver, cant be sold on eBay Listings must accurately describe the precious metal weight content, purity (fineness) and brand (refiner or mint) of the bullion item being sold Listings must include a photo of both sides of the actual coin, bar, or other bullion item being sold If the bullion item includes an assay card or certificate of authenticity (COA), the listing must include a picture of the COA and an accurate description of the packaging Why does eBay have this policy? As well as providing buyers with accurate information, this policy also helps to ensure that important government regulations around the sale of bullion items are followed.

<h2><h2>GUIDE.TALKING_POINTS Why cant I list my bullion? Internal Information See Category Limits, Guide1485 for talking points and instructions for the seller Why cant I list my German silver or Nickel silver bullion?

 German silver or nickel silver contains no actual silver. To avoid buyer confusion, we dont allow these items. </h2>