

<h2>GUIDE.TALKING_POINTS Current Listing(s) Meet Fraud Risk Criteria We reviewed your (please fill in phone charger, cable, batteries, earphones) and determined it presents a high risk of creating a bad buying experience on eBay. This decision was made based on our continuous reviews of transaction on eBay and any bad buying experiences that have been brought to our attention. Unfortunately, some listings on eBay have resulted in claims and/or negative feedback from buyers stating the item is not as described, poor quality, or concerns with authenticity. The listing(s) we removed on your account showed many similarities with listings that have previously resulted in bad buying experiences. Based on these similarities, we ask that you do not attempt to relist these removed items on eBay. Relisting these items will result in restrictions and/or suspension of selling privileges. For any future items you may list, you will need to ensure it is of good quality and comes from a reputable supplier. If branded, you are responsible to ensure the item is authentic. It is against eBay policy to list any counterfeit items. For more information please see our Replica, counterfeit items, and unauthorized copies policy:
